"Why fight with the school board? Let them call the Junior College District election. We'll vote it down."

A Carmel businessman, who has served in public office, and owns considerable taxable property in this community, made that comment to me yesterday.

He is nursing a mistaken idea and a false hope, shared by a number of Carmel school district taxpayers.

Carmel school district voters cannot defeat the junior college district in an election.

They could over-whelmingly vote no and the only effect would be to embarrass the Carmel school board.

The school districts do not vote separately on whether or not they want to participate in a Peninsula-wide junior college, as inside and outside areas vote separately in an annexation to a city. This is not an annexation of Carmel and Pacific Grove to the Monterey Junior College District. It is the creation of a new junior college district in which Carmel, Pacific Grove and Monterey vote to buy Monterey Junior College from the Monterey High School District.

One election is held in which all three districts vote together as a single unit. A majority vote of the entire Peninsula determines the election. Carmel's no vote would be overwhelmed by Monterey's yes vote because Monterey has many more citizens to cast votes, and, to quote Dudley Swim's statement before the Carmel school board Monday night, "Monterey will have us at their mercy. They will welcome the chance to unload their white elephant on Carmel."

The Peninsula-wide junior college election set-up takes away the power of decision from Carmel, not only in the formation of the district, but also in future bond issues and over-ride taxes.

Carmel has a high school of its own now because Carmel taxpayers became tired of paying for bond issues which they could not defeat when Carmel was a part of the Monterey High School District. In effect Carmel's name was signed to the blank checks and Monterey filled in the amounts. This condition would obtain again if the school board puts us in the junior college district. Bert Heron reminded the school board of that fact at the Monday night meeting.

Most of the laws protect the right of the taxpayer to decide how his money is spent; that is why so many citizens in Carmel have mistakenly assumed that they will have a chance to defeat in an election their involvement in a junior college district. They will have the chance to vote but it won't keep them out of the junior college district. Once the school board calls for an election, we are in.

Does this explain why the Pine Cone has repeatedly asked for delay until the school board could inform itself and inform the voters as to what the costs will be, and to get an expression from the Carmel school district voters, by Nieto Heads Study Comm On J.C. Dist.

A citizens committee on the proposed Peninsula-wide junior college district will meet Monday night with the Carmel Unified School District Board to receive briefing.

The committee: August Nieto, chairman; Eugene Harrah, Mrs. Fred Diefendorf, Captain Archer M. R. Allen, J. O. Handley, Gunnar Norberg, Paul McKinstry and Mrs. Walter Pilot.

The committee's functions are:

To analyze the several conflicting reports on the costs to the Carmel School District tax payers of participating with Pacific Grove and Monterey in a proposed junior college district vs. the cost of remaining out and continuing to send our students to Monterey Junior College on a tax-tuition basis;

To inform the Carmel tax payers of the costs and issues involved;

To find a way to get an expression of opinion from the voters of this district as to whether or not they wish to participate in a junior college district.

An expression is necessary because Carmel voters cannot make their wishes effective in an election to formulate the J. C. district (see editorial this page).

No time limit has been set on the committee's study.

The school board decided, at its meeting Monday night, to appoint a citizens committee, after an exchange of opinion between board members and Herbert Heron, Gunnar Norberg and Dudley Swim.

Mr. Norberg pointed out that there is a three million dollar bonding limit on the property in the Carmel Unified School District. Would the new junior college, through bond issues for itself reduce the bonding capacity of this district for its elementary schools and high schools?

Superintendent Mitchell said he thought not. A new bonding capacity for the junior college would be superimposed. But nobody was

Monterey Institute Of Foreign Studies Opens On Monday

The Monterey Institute of Foreign Studios will hold its Third Summer Seminar, by the courtesy and cooperation of Monsignor Michael O'Connell, in the classrooms of the parochial school and Crespi Hall. The school will open Monday and be in session until August 21.

This project is akin to the Salzburg Seminars where American scholars assemble every summer to consider American Institutions with a student body of European students, scholars and other citizens. It provides a practical and intensive study of languages and civilizations: French, German, Spanish, Italian and Russian; of political arts: diplomatic and comparative history, international economics, comparative law, asiatic civilizations; and of religion and civilization.

According to Dr. Remsen Bird, consultant for the Institute, the project "carries on the thesis that people held together in friendliness, mutual understanding and respect, can create an atmosphere in which the professional diplomats can do their work wisely, humanely and well."

There will be evening classes as well as day sessions this year.

All contributions to the institute, whether to provide scholarships for outstanding students or help with expenses are deductible from income tax.

For anyone not in active practice, Dr. Margaret Barnes of Carmel must be voted the most active non-practicing Doctor of Osteopathy in the west.

Executive Secretary of the National Academy of Applied Osteopathy, with offices in her home on Third and Carpenter, Dr. Barnes recalls that she came to Carmel eight years ago to "rest and relax" after fifteen strenuous years in Chicago as a practicing D.O., as an instructor in pediatrics at the Chicago College of Osteopathy and as staff pediatrician and obstetrician of the college.

"But something happened to the resting and relaxing program," Dr. Barnes smiles, and whether it was the effect of the California climate on a Yankee, or whether it was her inborn Yankee "get up and git", Dr. Barnes found herself immersed in one activity after another which included teaching First Aid with the Carmel Red Cross Chapter, taking over the practices of osteopathic friends across the country and in Honolulu while they vacationed, prior to her full time work as national secretary and editor for the Academy of Applied Osteopathy.

Currently making arrangements for the Academy Convention, in connection with the American Osteopathic Association in Dallas, in mid-July, Dr. Barnes peers over the mountains of papers, cabinets and shelves necessary for keeping track of a membership of 1100, with minutes of meetings and materials for a bi-monthly publication and an annual directory. "There's one thing about this work," she says, "that comes under the New England heading of 'following your natural bent'. I love to file things! I learned to file at approximately the same time I learned to make mud pies when someone in my family gave me a discarded filing cabinet. And from that day on, I filed doll clothes, dolls, blocks and mud pie equipment in such a strict methodical manner that it has since become almost second nature to me to file things where I can find them on a moment's notice, whether the Sunday outfit of my second best doll, the clinical record

First Bach Festival Musicians Arrive As Mail Orders Pour In

One of the happiest and busiest meeting places in town these days is the ticket office of the 20th Anniversary Bach Festival, July 15 through 21. "Regulars" those who have attended the Festival year after year rush in for their accustomed seats . . . mail orders from all parts of the country are stacked high, and Dene Denny of the Denny-Watrous Management reports that the advance sale of both season and single tickets has never been so high.

Conductor Sandor Salgo, who has been "commuting" from Palo Alto since late January for rehearsal of the chorus of 50 voices, is now, with Mrs. Salgo, a Carmel resident, until the Festival's close.

Ralph Linsley, the Festival's pianist and harpsicordist, arrived last Monday. This will be Mr. Linsley's 19th year with the Carmel Festival. Beloved for his personal charm, he is indispensible to the Festival as a musician of rare ability, organizer, and friend.

By air, rail, and private car, the advance guard, the "Strings" will pour into town on Sunday. Familiar faces eagerly anticipated include: Nanette Levi, violinist and concert mistress, who will arrive from San Antonio with her husband William Harry, first chair 'cellist; and also from San Antonio, Richard Andrews, double basso; from Las Angeles, Viola Fuehr, Barbara Brown and Mary Alyce Marshall, violinists; and Eugene Wilson, 'cellist; from Seattle, Myra Mosher, and from Berkeley, Mary James, violinist.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The Fourth Western Conference of The American Symphony Orchestra League at Asilomar, June 27 to 29, exceeded in every way the success of last year's conference. The Conductors' Workshop, inaugurated then, continued under Dr. Richard Lert, Conductor of the Pasadena Orchestra, assisted by Dr. Erno Daniel, Conductor of Whichita Falls Symphony Orchestra. This had opened on June 20 to continue until July 5 with 96 players from orchestras all over the country — even from Chili and a Japanese Opera Orchestra. Twenty-one major and hundreds of smaller orchestras are part of the League as well as other organizations and individuals. Fourteen conductors were taking Dr. Lert's criticism and suggestions on conducting various compositions. The players included some members of the Monterey County Orchestra.

The meetings of the conference were held in the Chapel where table displays of various orchestras could be inspected, while many subjects pertaining to them were opened by John S. Edwards, president of The League, artistic development, educational work, fund raising, organizational proceedure, community response, commissioning of works by various orchestral associations, contests, coaching plans, scholarships, summer camps, arts councils, women's committees, all engendered lively discussion and constructive contemplation. Orchestras and composers' responsiblities to contemporary music was debated by a panel of Paul Creston, consulting composer for the conference, Robert Ward, Davis Ward-Steinman,

350 LITTLE LEAGUERS AT BARBECUE

A Little Leaguer is anyone who plays, attends, supports, or officiates Little League baseball, and at last Sunday's Little League barbecue there were upwards of 350 who qualified as Little Leaguers and enjoyed the delicious chicken barbecue prepared by Little League chefs. After disposing of the bountiful barbecue the Little Leaguers gathered at the Fairgrounds Hunt Club to honor the graduating players, league winners, managers, and league officials. President Bill Woolsey, handling the microphone with the eclate and dispatch of a budding Dizzy Dean, introduced the team managers who in turn introduced the players who will graduate from Little League baseball because old Father Time has caught up with them. Boys Town manager, Bill Rosenkranz, said boodbye to such good performers as Pat Bein, Baxter Garcia, David Harber, Robert Broadus, and Mike Tilden. Skipper Lew McCreery of the Sport Shop team will miss Joe Sponsler, the league's top hitter this year, Bobby Baumann, Charlie Konrad, Kenny Edwards, and Steve Fairfield when the team takes the field next season.

George Baxter's Pilot crew will be minus four ancient performers, Forest Cornwall, home run king of the '57 season, Walt Pilot, Gary Mumford, and Jim Hurlburt. Gone from Jack Miller's 1957 Champions will be Danny Holman, the league's leading pitcher, Dick Hubbell, Chuck Casey, Lyndon Mahrt, and Bill O'Neill. If plans which are in the hopper at the present time are realized, this year's graduates from the Little League will have an opportunity to strut their stuff in a Babe Ruth League which encompasses youngsters in the 13 to 15 age group.

Jack Miller introduced the San Carlos Agency team, 1957 Little League winners, and described the players as being the most cooperative team performers he has ever seen. Taking the bows as league champs were: Lyndon Mahrt, Gary Moffatt, Dick Hurlburt, Dick Hubbell, Pete Conway, Danny Holman, William O'Neill, Jay Miller, Padgett Decker, Matt Little, Roy Bennett, Chuck Casey, Jeff Zils, Tim Hudson, and Dick Houck.

CARMEL SWIMMERS OUTSPLASH MONTEREY, 129 TO 71

Sparked by Ann Giles and Pat Mosolf, who tacked up four first places between them, the Carmel Recreation swim team turned back a strong Monterey Recreation team, 129 to 71, last Saturday morning at the Carmel High pool. Ann finished first in the 25-yard freestyle for girls 13-15 and also copped the blue ribbon in the breaststroke. Pat touched first in both the backstroke and breaststroke for girls in the 12 and under class. Three entrants from the Aldrich family contributed valuable points for the winning Carmel team. Pat finished first in the backstroke and third in the freestyle, Kay won the 50 freestyle and placed third in the breaststroke, and Tommy zipped to a second place in the boys 8 and under backstroke.

Next competitive action for the Carmel swimmers will be on the 4th of July when they compete in the 20-30 Club Meet at the Pacific Grove pool.

Carmel places in the Monterey meet: D. Clayton, 2nd in the 50-yard backstroke; Ann Giles, 1st in the 25-yard backstroke and 50-yard breaststroke; Pam Peterson, 2nd in the 25-yard freestyle and 3rd in the 50-yard freestyle; Bob Wells, 1st in the 25-yard freestyle and 2nd in the breaststroke; Pat Mosolf, 1st in the backstroke and breaststroke; Tim Fry, 2nd in the backstroke and freestyle; Ronnie Berry, 3rd in the backstroke; S. MONTEREY JUNIOR LEGION AT CARMEL SATURDAY MORNING

Manager Ray Casas brings his Monterey Junior Legion baseball team to Carmel this Saturday morning to cross bats with the Post 512 squad which is looking for its first win of the season. The Post 512 unit has improved in each game but has found the competition pretty rough against the likes of Salinas, Hollister, and Monterey. In the first round game against Monterey, the locals dropped the nod, 7 to 2, after leading for most of the game. Monterey has whipped Hollister twice but lost two decisions to the powerful

Silver Thimble Has Second Store

The Silver Thimble, lingerie shop on Dolores, south of Ocean, has opened a second location in Carmel, it was announced this week by Mrs. Margaret Queen Williams, owner. The lingerie, blouse and robe section of Harriet Rider's Hour Glass, opening onto Dolores Street, has been leased to Mrs. Williams by Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Rider, owners of The Hour Glass. The Rider shop, since its extensive remodeling last year, has combined both a corset and foundation shop, opening into Sixth Avenue, and the lingerie store having access to Dolores Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Rider will continue to operate the foundation shop, while Mrs. Williams has now assumed operation of the lingerie and robe section of the Rider store. Mrs. Louise Queen Lyle, Mrs. Williams' sister, long associated with her, will manage the second Silver Thimble shop adjoining the Hour Glass. Similar merchandise will be stocked by both the Silver Thimble store south of Ocean on Dolores, and the second shop on Dolores near Sixth Avenue.

Mrs. Williams purchased The Silver Thimble in 1951 from Mrs. Frances Tilton. The small but delightful specialty shop has been a Carmel landmark for many years in its Dolores, south of Ocean, location.

Music On Peninsula . . .

Gerald Kechley, and Robert Kelly, American composers whose works are nationally known and who contributed their experience and worthwhile suggestions.

Carl Haverlin, president of Broadcast Music, Inc., New York, spoke of the future as the only possible time when works of today can be really evaluated, as the greatest musicians of the past were only so designated long after they passed on. Also he argued that all new music should be given at least one hearing, and conductors were urged not to ignore any possible works by local composers, a concept that is forward-looking and far-reaching. A summing up report of the year was given on Saturday by the executive secretary, Mrs. Helen M. Thompson, exhilarating and comprehensive record of the extended work the American Symphony League has done and its planned expansion in every direction, particularly the international aspect. The American Symphony League is the Administrative Agency for President Eisenhower's People to People program toward greater international fellowship and peace through the cultural arts, of which Conductor Ormandy of the Philadelphia Orchestra is the leader. While a final board meeting was in progress, Dr. Lert was surrounded by those delegates seeking his illumined information on various phases of music which he gave with his rare kindness and grace.

The banquet that followed the reception on Thursday seated about 200. Sterling Wimans of the Sacramento Symphony Board made an excellent toastmaster, and managed to introduce everyone present, including the Chili delegate who knew hardly any English but made a hit at the mike with his response.

Next year, July 5 to 20, the Western Conference of Conductors and Composers will again be at Asilomar. Monterey County Symphony Conductor Gregory Millar agreed with this writer that this is a valuable and significant distinction for the musical prestege of the Peinsula, and affords opportunity to the community of enlightenment on musical growth and organization which is taking place everywhere in America today. Toward the greatly desired peace and harmony, no activity can have more vital and contagious influence.

Dr. Margaret Barnes Is Busiest Retired Osteopath In West

of one of my patients, or the current record and whereabouts of one of the members of the Academy.

A ninth generation native of Waltham, Massachusetts, Dr. Barnes was an only child who began her interest in pediatrics at about the age of eight when she took care of all the neighbors children she could collect. From then until she graduated from Wellesley College with a major in sciences, the idea of medicine and pediatrics was never far from her mind, and a chance visit to an osteopath decided her in the direction of a D.O. rather than an M.D., and a second chance meeting with the Wellesley Dean of Women in Rome brought fruit to the decision.

"It was during a European trip following my graduation," Dr. Barnes remembers, "I'd visited my Latin professor who was on sabbatical and found that the Dean was at the same pension. I talked to her of my decision and she was so encouraging that at her insistence I enrolled in the Chicago College, and caused some consternation at the College too. After all, they hadn't had many Yankee students who had inquired from Rome.

Holder of the Number I certificate from the National Board of Osteopathic Examiners, Dr. Barnes might well also be granted the Number I certificate as a California booster.

Drawn to Carmel originally because the terrain was so much like Maine, where she had spent her New England summers, she is particularly impressed by the great freedom of activity permitted by the California climate. And to one who enjoys swimming as much as Dr. Barnes, this is important.

"But this freedom seeps into all activity," she emphasizes, "and life becomes immediately less rigid, less formal, more relaxed than in New England."

Pointing out that there is some truth in the adage that "once a Yankee, always a Yankee" Dr. Barnes says that she may one day return to the East since she holds licenses for practicing in three New England states and since pediatrics is still her major interest.

But in the interim, it's Carmel, California, which she insists is the only place in the country where you can relax while you work, knowing there's no snow to be shoveled or frozen pipes to contend with and where it is possible to conduct the business of a nationwide organization such as the Academy from a desk and a battery of file cabinets in your own home!

As a case in point, Dr. Barnes leaves off caring for the flowers in the garden of the home she shares with Dr. Helen Hull to make final arrangements for the lectures, the business and professional programs of the Dallas convention of the Academy of Applied Osteopathy, where she will unquestionably continue to be the most "active inactive" Doctor of Osteopathy in the west.

Four Partners Form New Insurance Firm The Bell Agency

Formation of The Bell Insurance Agency, a firm dealing in insurance exclusively, was announced this week. The four partners are: Bob Bell, Don Coty, Emrie Pinney and Les Stegeman. Offices of the new Agency are on Junipero, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, in the Belvail Electric Building. The premises, now enlarged, are the ones occupied formerly by Bob Bell alone.

Mr. Bell, a native Carmelite, was born and reared here. He is a graduate of both Sunset School and Carmel High. Prior to opening his own agency he was associated with the L. L. Benson Insurance Agency in Carmel, and with one of the country's largest national insurance firms. He has undergone both intensive company training and taken specialized, college-level professional insurance courses in San Francisco. His practical in-the-field insurance experience extends over a period of several years.

Bob and his wife, Ann Rigdon Bell, live with their two youngsters at First and Carpenter in Carmel. Peggy Bell is 3, while Pat is one and a half. Bob's mother, Mrs. Harold Studevant, also is a resident of Carmel.

Don Coty spent twelve years as State Agent for one of the country's best known insurance firms. For three years he was chief underwriter for that company in San Francisco. He later became special agent for his firm, specializing in Inland-Marine, commercial property and home owners' lines.

Originally from Hartford, Connecticut, Mr. and Mrs. Coty (Gloria Porter) long have wished to live here, having enjoyed Carmel during their Bay Area years. They now are residents of Monte Vista Park with their two children, Stephen, 7, and Sheila, 18 months old.

Emrie Pinney, third partner in the new professional insurance firm, is a native of Kansas. He spent fifteen years with large insurance agencies in the east and in California. He and his wife, Vera, have three children: Craig, 12; and twins, a boy and a girl, who are eight. The Pinneys, like the Cotys, welcomed the opportunity to live here, a long-time ambition of theirs.

Les Stegeman, fourth member of The Bell Insurance Agency, has spent more than twelve years in the field. He is a former special agent for one of America's best known insurance companies. For a time he was stationed in San Jose as district manager for his company. He is a native of Nebraska, who came to California in 1948. He and his wife, Willow, live also in Monte Vista Park with their daughter Teresa, 9, and their son, Gregory, 7.

The Gilbert Boyers are driving east for their summer vacation. Mrs. Boyer (Louise Cardeiro) is having a one-man show at Provincetown, Massachusetts. Mr. Boyer is doing some concerts on the Atlantic coast. The three children, Bobby, 8; Frances, 13, and Gilbert, Jr. who just graduated from Carmel High, and who is 16, are with them. The family will return in September.

First Bach Festival Musicians Arrive

arriving on Sunday to rehearse for the first time with the Carmel Festival will be: Forrest Midtgaoen, violist of the San Antonio Texas Symphony; Douglas Davis and Mary Jane Bemico, 'cellists from Los Angeles; Jackie Melvin, violinist, from Spokane; Maxine Kouns, violinist, San Francisco Symphony; and Germaine Prevost, violist, San Francisco.

On Sunday evening the "Strings" will have their first rehearsal under the baton of Conductor Salgo, in Sunset School Auditorium; and the first orchestral notes of the Festival that has brought fame and hundreds of the world's lovers of great music to Carmel-by-the-Sea will be sounded.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

All the new books this week are fiction, 16 new novels. In honor of summer, vacation reading, and the tourist season, we are staging this festival of fiction, or words to that effect. Seven of these books are mysteries, and to make them easy to locate on the list, we have grouped them separately. Now that's what we call real service!

William Saroyan is a character who writes books which are also characters, and his new one is no exception. We classed it as fiction, the jacket lists it as a novel, but it also expresses the whole problem of classification when it says the book is Saroyan's "latest novel-autobiography-history - criticism-and-appreciation of life, art, manners, cooking, eating, the world, the human family, and therefore his best". Everyone should develop a taste for Saroyan because there is nobody like him. The title is Papa, You Are Crazy.

Lucy Kennedy wrote an interesting book after long research into the journals and letters belonging to members of the Audubon family. The title of her book is Mr. Audubon's Lucy, and it is the story of the married life of the famous painter of birds. Being married to an artist is not always a path of roses. Lucy endured many hardships, and long separation, but the strong love between these two fine people made all hardships bearable. This is a heartwarming book.

The works of Conrad Richter have won many prizes, including the Pulitzer in 1951. He has been called "one of the most distinguished of living American novelists". This is most certainly true. His books are a delight to read, and one reason for this may be his clear style. His new novel is called The Lady. Once again he writes of New Mexico, and once again this is a book you should not miss.

Lady in Waiting by Rosemary Sutcliff is based upon the life of Sir Walter Raleigh, and Elizabethan England. The Little Valley of God was written by Carlo Coccioli, and the scene is a sunny section of Italy. We go to another part of the world for the locale of Fifth Daughter by Hal Gurney. This is a story of Okinawa, of Sumiko who was the fifth daughter of the Widow Hayashi, and of Steven Ryan, an American soldier.

After reading Knock and Wait, we saw that the jacket blurb says that William Weeks lives south of San Francisco, so we checked the telephone directory to see if we might claim him as a local resident. But no, it must be he lives south but not this far south. If you like stories of intrigue and adventure, in a modern setting, be sure to read this book. It is well written and exciting, and it has a sort of the-lady-or-the-tiger ending; you wouldn't want all books to end this way, but once in a while it's fun.

The devoted will enjoy a new mystery by Anthony Gilbert which is called Riddle of a Lady. But look for it under Malleson because Mr. Gilbert is himself a lady, and his real name is Lucy Malleson. Christopher Bush has a new one called The Case of the Extra Man. Roy Fuller's new one With My Little Eye is the story of a murder which was solved by a small boy. There was a time when all murders were solved by great strong he-men. Then there came along the little old lady with a taste for thinking out who was the evildoer. Now it's a little child who wields the brain power. Time marches on. There are more mystery novels, and other straight novels, so come in and choose the one which looks best to you. Happy Fourth of July to you!

GARDEN TOUR

The sixth annual garden tour of Carmel and Pebble Beach has been scheduled for August 14. This annual event is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services to raise funds for the visiting nurses association.

New Classes Start At Art Institute For Students, Laymen

Summer classes are now in session at the Carmel Art Institute school of painting. These include instruction in color design, composition, anatomy, still life, portrait, and the techniques of various mediums. A course of demonstration lectures by Patricia Cunningham is a special feature of the summer program.

Mrs. Cunningham, who was a student of Hans Hofmann and Andre Llote, will discuss abstract and non-objective expressionism. She will trace the history, the purpose, the techniques and value of this form of the art of painting and try to show why it is the most controversial contemporary art form; and how to distinguish the good from the bad where there is no objective subject matter to guide the observer's judgment.

This course is open to laymen as well as artists and will be Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. For further information call MA 4-6268 or visit the studio in the court of the Golden Bough.

The Carmel Art Institute is approved for veterans by the California State Board of Education for a four year fine arts course. It has become one of the outstanding schools in the west and turns out a large proportion of successful professional artists. Last year the Italian Ministry of Education approved the founding of a branch of the Carmel Art Institute at Capri. This is now in process of organization.

The San Juan Bautista Fiesta Rodeo will be held Sunday. This annual day-long celebration, with parade, barbecue and rodeo, is an annual event which takes place during the anniversary week of the founding of the Mission. Funds raised are devoted to restoring the beautiful old church, now celebrating its 160th birthday.

True to early California tradition, the fiesta opens with Mass at the Mission, which will be held at 6:00, 8:00 and 9:30 o'clock.

The parade begins at 10:30. It is colorful with bands, drill teams, floats; drum and bugle groups, majorettes and some of the finest horses and riders in the world. San Benito County has long been famous for its stock horses and the men who handle them.

At 12:00 o'clock the center of activity shifts to the Old Olive Grove within the L of the Mission. Here hard working cooks produce food for 5,000 visitors and participants. It is a model of efficiency and brings people back year after year.

At 1:45 o'clock the Grand Entry rides down the old Camino Real to the Rodeo ground below the Mission and the rodeo begins. In the arena tough, experienced riders and ropers take their chances against broncs and brahmas to the intense delight of the audience. The show moves with professional skill and speed.

On the track the horsemen take over. Here the contestants cut figure-eights, slide to a stop, spin in a circle and work the fast running steers. These are the top stock horses trained to work with smoothness, speed, intelligence and incredible agility.

BEAUTIFICATION CONTEST

Samual F. B. Morse awarded George K. Gann first prize in a home beautification contest sponsored by Del Monte Properties Co. in his office at Pebble Beach on Friday. Prize money in the amount of $2000 was awarded, and Harris W. Baker, president of the Del Monte Home Owners Association assisted in presenting the awards.

The judges put emphasis on the retention of the natural features of each garden. The committee feels that money can be saved in hiring landscape architects for an hour's consultation at a minimum fee to suggest simpler methods of planting. They looked for indiginous trees and simple landscapes.

The rest of the winners are Mrs. F. G. Cruickshank, Cypress Point; Mrs. Wm. Garland, 17 Mile Drive and Crespi Lane; Col. H. K. Baisley, Sand Dunes Road; Patrick L. Lewis, Bird Rock Road; Mrs. Ward P. Anderson, Bonifacio Lane; Mrs. Dorothy Bell, El Bosque at Scenic Drive; Donald W. Kelley, Coral Drive, MPCC; Mrs. Maybelle DeKay, Cormorant Road; and Dr. Tom Harris, San Carlos Road, MPCC.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
C. Edward Graves
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

WHO OWNS OUR PUBLIC LANDS?

Hearings have recently been held by Congressional committees on two bills that are very important from the standpoint of wilderness conservationists and of outdoor recreationists in general. Trustees for Conservation, an organization with headquarters in San Francisco, of which Ansel Adams is president (251 Kearny St.) — "to secure the support of the people and the government in preservation of national parks and monuments, wildlife, and wilderness areas" — has issued a folder with detailed information about the bills and a plea to write to Congress about them. They are known familiarly as the Wilderness Bill and the Recreation Resources Review Bill.

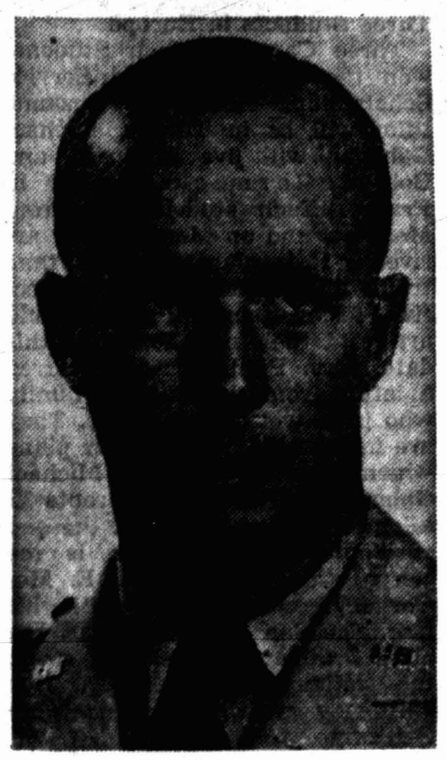
Although any good conservationist could answer the question that I have chosen for the title of this column, yet there is a great lack of information on the part of the general public about the ownership and management of our public lands. Because most of them are in the West, this ignorance and lack of interest is particularly noticeable in other parts of the country. It is human nature to care more about what happens to land that one sees every day than areas two or three thousand miles away.

Most of our public lands are under the management of the National Park Service, the U. S. Forest Service, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Bureau of Land Management. At the recent Wilderness Conference in San Francisco representatives of all these government agencies presented their story. It is not my intention in this column, nor do I have the space, to discuss the various types of public domain. I do, however, want to make one point clear.

Because Congress has given the administration of these lands into the hands of various government bureaus, that does not give these bureaus a vested interest in them. Title remains with the people of the country who elect Congressmen. If there is enough interest in the welfare of these lands on the part of the voters, their administration and jurisdiction can be changed at will ,and during this process the attitude of the administering agencies should be a neutral one. It is their duty to supply objective information but not to attempt to influence decisions in any other way.

There has been much discussion recently about establishing various new national parks. They will have to be taken from other portions of the public domain. Naturally administering agencies are jealous of their prerogatives and this creates difficult problems of public relations. Fear of these problems should not, however, be a deterrent to action in the interest of the greatest public good. After all, who owns our public lands?

If the two bills mentioned at the beginning of this column are carefully studied and discussed, and if misrepresentations of their purpose can be controlled, we shall have gone a long way toward the solution of some of these pressing problems of public land administration. The Trustees for Conservation have no selfish interest in these bills. I suggest that their viewpoint would be of great interest to the owners of our public lands.



Colonel Walter T. Kerwin, Jr., whose wife, Barbara, lives in Carmel, was graduated June 20 from the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania. Colonel Kerwin was one of 200 senior officers completing a ten-months' course at the Army's highest educational institution. A 1939 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy, he holds the Legion of Merit, Purple Heart and the Bronze Star Medal.

Edgar Bissantz To Show Color Slides Of Italy At Circle

As one of its Peninsula Personalities series of Tuesday evening events, the Golden Bough Circle Theatre will present architect-photographer Edgar Bissantz in an illustrated travelogue on modern Italy at 8:00 o'clock on July 9. The talk will be followed by refreshments and a social hour.

In the course of the lecture, the speaker will show 300 color slides of Venice, and many of Sicily and Capri. Because of the limited seating capacity, interested persons are urged to obtain tickets in advance at the Browse Around Shop in Carmel. The benefit charge of 90 cents, which includes refreshments, will be used for equipment and maintenance of the Circle Theatre.

Among the other events scheduled for the series is a symposium on The Fabulous Isle of Capri by Carmel painters John and Patricia Cunningham, and Capri artist Leo Braico, and a talk on the history of dogs by Carmel's national authority and dog show judge, Derek Rayne. Other events will feature a wide range of subjects of general interest.

Pine Needles

Lions Installation

The picnic ground at the Water Filter Plant in Carmel Valley was the setting Tuesday night for a stag barbecue at which Carmel Lions Club officers for the coming year were installed. Dr. William Coughlin, newly elected district governor of district 4C4, presided as Fred S. Stanley assumed leadership of the Carmel club. August Nieto, local restaurateur and one of the founders of the Carmel Craft Center, surrendered the gavel as outgoing president.

Stanley, member of a family prominent in the hotel business, grew up on the Monterey Peninsula and is associated with Butts Pontiac-Cadillac Motors. He has been an active member of the Lions Club for some years, serving in various offices.

Clifford Cook, publisher of the Carmel Pine Cone, and one of the club's charter members, will serve as first vice president, while William Wakefield, Carmel recreation director, was installed as second vice president.

George Dear, local realtor and cricket enthusiast, will take over the job of secretary, and Stanley Ewig, associated with the brokerage house of Reynolds and Co., takes over the treasury. Tail Twister for the group will be Dale Leidig, while another well known Carmelite, Paul Mercurio, serves as Lion Tamer. Two new directors are Joe Oenning and Ernest Bixler, the latter a contractor and former Postmaster. The local club, now in its sixteenth year, holds weekly dinner meetings on Tuesday evenings at the Cypress West Hotel.

Retiring President Nieto was presented a handsome plaque in recognition of his outstanding service to the club in its many public service projects. Cliff Cook was presented 12 golf balls by the golf chairman, after a delayed decision as to who was the club champion.

Flood Disaster

The Carmel Chapter of the American Red Cross is accepting contributions for last week's Hurricane Flood Disaster. Send to P.O. Box A. R. While the cost of the damage has not bee estimated, its is expected to be high. General Gruenther and Val Peterson of FCDA toured Louisiana and the rest of the hurricane area. At Lake Charles the Red Cross housed 20,000 persons, and rushed serum albumin used for shock cases, to the disaster area.

Vacation For Pete

Pete Carpenter felt that he never left Carmel. All along the Redwood Highway he met people from home. Pete has lived here for twenty-five years. When he got to Oregon he met Zane Byrd. When he got to Washington he met John Wahl, and they went fishing in Vancouver and British Columbia. At the resorts he met other Carmel people. Pete returned on Tuesday, after two weeks of driving through beautiful scenery, past mountain lakes and redwoods.

Report On The Carswells

A card from the Laidlaw Williamses, on their way east to spend the summer in Nova Scotia, gives news of former Carmel residents. "We stopped in Santa Fe, New Mexico, this noon and had lunch at the Carswells' "Shed" in Burro Alley, a charming little court yard arts and crafts center. Both Polly and Thornton seem very flourishing."

Thornton Carswell was a Pine Cone printer and Polly engaged in weaving when they lived in Carmel five years ago.

Barbara Burdick Engaged

Mrs. Bernard Wood Burdick of Carmel Valley and Worcester, Massachusetts, announces the engagement of her daughter, Barbara Jo-Anne Burdick, to Gareth Brydon Geering of Sacramento. An August 3 wedding will be at Carmel Mission.

Klepichs In Italy

Carmel painters Fred Klepich and his wife, who paints her delicate oils under the name of Mary Miller, spent these past ten days in Porto Fino. They painted some works in Florence, and will be in Venice soon. They celebrated Easter by going to the bullfights in Barcelona, and, of course, visiting the Prado. Their central purpose is to browse around the museums and palazzos to study the paintings of the masters. Their letters home are full of enthusiasm. The only complaint was the difficulty in crossing the streets of Rome with its many motorcycles, and the noise and heat of the city. Fred Klepich managed to do several watercolors, although they did not stay in one town very long. There was too much red tape in sending them ahead, so the Klepiches will send them when they are ready to come home at the end of August. They are going to Yugoslavia in a few days and then will meet the Leslie Emerys in Switzerland. The Emerys are at Lake Gardo in Italy at present.

Mrs. Arnold Entertains Parents

Mrs. Philip Arnold of Carmel has had her parents as houseguests the past month. On June 22 she invited 110 people to meet them when she gave a cocktail party in their honor. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lawrence of Cleveland, Ohio. They have been taking trips to Big Sur, playing bridge and otherwise enjoying their stay on the peninsula. Mrs. Arnold, her eight year old son, Philip, Jr., and the Lawrences are going to sail for Honolulu July 20.

Gutmanns Hold Open House

Last Sunday afternoon from 3:00 to 6:00 o'clock more than fifty friends were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. John Gutmann at an open house at their new home located at First and Torres in Carmel. Vera and John puchased the contemporary redwood dwelling about a month ago, and moved in some weeks later. Accompanying them, of course, was Schnautie, their Schnautzer. The move from the Lincoln Street apartment where they have lived for several years was made on Schnautie's birthday —he's now seven years old.

Salinas Legion which is undefeated so far this season. Tim O'Shea, hard-throwing lefty, will toe the slab for Post 512 in Saturday's 10:00 a.m. clash. Tim looked all over a winner at Hollister last Saturday until a streak of wildness in the fourth inning got him in trouble. Cim Conway will also be available for mound duty against the hard-hitting Monterey crew.

In last Saturday's game at Hollister, Post 512 broke out with a four-run lead in the second inning and were breezing along in front until the fatal fourth when Hollister erupted to wipe out the advantage. Carmel came back in the sixth to deadlock the game at 7-7 only to have Hollister push across three markers in the eighth frame to notch a 10-7 victory. Walt Helm continued to swing a hot bat in this game, clubbing out two singles in three official trips to the plate. Pete Osborne and Tim O'Shea also swung big bats in this one, Pete getting a pair of singles and Tim hitting two singles and a triple.

On Saturday, July 13, the league-leading Salinas Junior Legion will visit Carmel for the last game of the current Legion season.

Nieto Heads Study Committee On J. C.

positive as to how this would work.

Mr. Norberg pointed out that the four cost surveys are in conflict, but that all seem to indicate that "it would be to our advantage to stay out".

Mr. Swim and Mr. Heron both emphasized the fact that Carmel would be helpless in the election to form the district and at the mercy of Monterey in bond elections or over-ride taxes once we were in the district. They thought that the school board was taking on too much authority in committing this district to the J. C. district without getting an expression of opinion from the voters.

Stuart Mitchell proposed that the board send out a letter to the parents explaining the board's position and asking for postcard vote.

Mr. Swim asked if the letter would present both sides of the argument.

Mr. Mitchell said the board couldn't use district funds for a pro and con letter. It could only inform on its policy.

Mr. Swim objected to the board's "using tax payers money to propagandize the tax payers."

Board member Mrs. Julian von Meier moved that the board petition the state board of education to call the junior college election.

This is the board action that would commit this district irrevocably and helplessly to the junior college district, Mr. Swim protested.

Mrs. von Meier's motion died for lack of a second.

New Board Member Ted Fehring moved that a citizen's committee be appointed to study the costs and find a way of polling citizens' opinion.

"Do you want to put a time limit on the study?" Chairman of the Board Gordon Campbell asked.

Mr. Fehring said no. "It is better from public relations point of view that they take as much time as they need, even if it should delay forming the junior college for a year.

Glenn Leidig seconded his motion.

CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The supremacy and all-power of God — divine Life, Truth, and Love — will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Selections to be read from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" include the following from Joshua (1.9): "Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee withersoever thou goest."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (228:25-27): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to honor God."

The Golden Text is from Joel (2:27): "Ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else."

CARMEL BLOOD QUOTA INCREASED

The Carmel Red Cross quota of 90 pints of blood every three months has been raised to 122 pints. The local chapter, collecting agency for the blood center, pressed for new donors, is putting on a house to house canvas during the week of July 8. Teams of Chapter volunteers, augumented by members of the Monterey Peninsula League for Community Servive, will go out to sign up new residents, and residents who have not before been called upon as possible donors. The Chapter is aiming for 80 new donors in order to maintain the revised quota.

All Chapters in the four counties served by the blood center in San Jose have had similar increases in quotas. This has been made necessary by the increased use of blood in all hospitals served by the center. Locally, 398 pints were used in the Peninsula Community Hospital during the year 1956. While local citizens donated 365 pints, the blood center supplied the deficit.

The bloodmobile will return to Carmel July 23.

an "advisory question" election within the district, whether or not we want to be involved in such a J. C. district?

Thanks to the determination of some alert Carmel school district property owners, and the new member of the school board, Ted Fehring, the board has decided to appoint a citizens' advisory committee to sift the cost facts, put them before the public and find a means of getting an expression from the Carmel School District taxpayers. —Wilma Cook.
